It is my honor to nominate Nadine Day for President of United States Masters Swimming.

Nadine has served USMS with distinction in many leadership capacities, most recently as its Vice President of Community Services which has oversight of the coaches committee, sports medicine and science committee and fitness education committee and various task forces. She has been a member of the BOD for the past six years with two of those years as a member of the Executive Committee. Nadine has been involved with many facets of the organization during her tenure, including the strategic plan in 2007, chair of the Compensation and Benefits Committee since 2007 and member of the Executive Director transition team in 2008 just to name a select few.

I believe that as President of U.S. Masters Swimming Nadine will provide strong leadership and will be an excellent ambassador to the greater aquatics community.

I recommend Nadine without reservation for this position.

Very truly yours,

To Whom It May Concern;

I am writing in support of Nadine Day's candidacy for the position of President of U.S. Masters Swimming (USMS). I have known Nadine for the past eight years as a swimmer, a coach, an LMSC Officer, and member of the U.S. Masters Swimming (USMS) Board of Directors. I have found Nadine to be a tireless, dedicated worker who is completely committed to the ideals and goals of U.S. Masters Swimming.

Nadine has worked hard on behalf of USMS for many years, upholding the rules of USMS, listening to members' concerns, and working on the national level to improve USMS services to its members. Nadine's positive attitude and can-do spirit are infectious. Nadine encourages people to work for the betterment of the organization, be it an LMSC or USMS as a whole. Her insights are often practical in nature, and her common-sense approach not only supports the values of the organization, but improves upon established processes while giving volunteers a way to influence positive change.

Nadine's wealth of experience within the swimming world and life experiences has allowed her to develop unique communication skills. In her current role as Vice President of Community Services oversees three different standing committees; Coaches, Sports Medicine and Science, and Fitness Education. Nadine also is Chair of the Compensation and Benefits Committee which is a Board of Directors committee. Nadine's communication skills are vital to consult with her committees on complex financial and legal issues. Nadine works very closely with all of the Executive Committee team members and understands the importance of teamwork in order to be successful.

Finally, I think Nadine is a natural leader and if given the opportunity would continue to share these skills within the United States Masters Swimming organization. Based on the factor mentioned above and Nadine's general character and fitness for the rigors of the position that the President of the organization will demand, I find her to be highly qualified for the position.

Respectfully yours,

Christopher J. Rushman
